Summer is here, which means there are certain food and drink options you'll probably be seeing more than others. As far as trendy foods go, some this season's trends are pretty appealing.

Food Business News says the flavored sparkling water craze isn't going anywhere. This summer these unsweetened, zero-calorie drinks made with natural flavors are everywhere. Bottled water brands like Dasani and Aquafina have gotten into the flavored sparkling water business, giving super-popular La Croix some competition.
